TOM BOLTON RECEIVES CHF M CERTIFICATION

January, 2010 - SPRINGFIELD, VA - Tom Bolton of ADI Construction's project management team traveled to Anaheim, California in August, 2009 to take the CHF M certification exam.

To take the exam, Tom had to be a member in good standing of the American Society for Healthcare Engineering (ASHE) and attend the three day ASHE Annual Conference and Exhibition. He passed the rigorous exam, and the CHF M Certification now compliments his 15 years of Healthcare Construction experience.

ABOUT CHF M – CHF M stands for Certified Healthcare Facility Manager. Only six people in Northern Virginia currently have a CHF M Certification. The test is based largely on real life experiences and knowledge, making it a rigorous exam and difficult to prepare for. The CHF M Certification is gaining popularity and is well on its way to becoming a requirement for properly measuring aptitude and experience in the Healthcare Construction field.

ABOUT ADI CONSTRUCTION - ADI Construction is a full-service provider of general contracting services. We are ranked among the top 20 Interior Construction Firms by Washington Business Journal. Our team brings decades of industry leadership and experience in the following types of construction: Tenant, Base Building, Healthcare, Veterinary, Capital Improvement, Retail, SCIF and much more. As members of the U.S. Green Building Council, ADI remains committed to sustainable construction. ADI's entire management staff, including superintendents, receives LEED training. All of ADI's LEED projects have met or exceeded their certification targets. Our office is located in Springfield, Virginia.
